Interdisciplinary Ed.D. in Leadership Program Admissions Writing Exercise

Thank you for your interest in applying to Creighton University's Interdisciplinary Ed.D. in Leadership program. As part of the application process, please write a two-part essay that first describes a real-world problem of employee health as a challenge for organizations (small or large – your choice).

In the second part, using evidence and your own experience, describe an initiative aimed at improving employee health that will address the issue.

Cite and provide a list of references (in any style that you are familiar with) for any evidence you use. This essay should be 2-3 pages in total length, reference page(s) excluded.
